

Games That Give: "You Play. We Donate. No Catch." - CauseKeepers

Written by

Saturday, 26 September 2009 21:17 -

CauseKeepers aims to not only provide you the best in printing and design but also in solutions. We also aim to inspire by making you aware of many new ideas in fundraising that impact the nonprofit world. Here you go: GamesThatGive.Net

Games That Give has a simple motto: "You Play. We Donate. No Catch."

That really is how it works. They sell advertising on their site, you play games, they give 70% of their earnings to charitable causes. Major sponsors such as Domino's Pizza, Pepsi, Starbucks and MasterCard are already advertising on the site.

You can also choose which organization the ad revenue goes to. From Breast Cancer Network of Strength to Unicef to Feeding America to MercyCorps, your cause is fairly certain to be covered.

Okay, they said no catch, but I think Sudoku might be even more difficult to complete when the puzzle is laid over the Domino's Pizza logo.

Which organization are you playing for?

Here is what About Us says at Gamesthatgive.net

About Us

GamesThatGive is a small team of like minded individuals who have banded together to bring fun to fundraising.

While our backgrounds are diverse, marketing, finance, non-profit and technology, we are united in our belief that fundraising should be fun!

Games That Give: "You Play. We Donate. No Catch." - CauseKeepers

Written by

Saturday, 26 September 2009 21:17 -

Joomla SEO powered by JoomSEF